

Certain plants are particularly distasteful to peacocks. The presence of one of these unpalatable plants in a garden is sometimes enough to discourage peafowl and send them searching for a new gourmet snack. Following is a list of these plants:

Acacia	Gloriosa Daisy
Agapanthus	Hardy Lavender
Azalea	Hen & Chicken
Baby's Breath	Hibiscus
Bee Balm	Hostas
Bird of Paradise	Ivy
Blazing Star Liatris	Jade
Bougainvillea	Lavender
Butterfly Plant	Liatris
Cactus	Marigold
Camellia	Mint
Canna	Mum
Carissa	Oleander
Chrysanthemum	Painted Daisy
Clivia	Pink India Hawthorne
Columbine	Periwinklé
Coneflower	Peonies
Coreopsis	Phlox
Dusty Miller	Pink Lady
Echeverria	Plumbago
Ferns	Poinsettia
Fuchsia	Pyracantha
Gaillardia	Roses
Gardenia	Shasta Daisy
Geranium	Snap Dragon
Giant Columbine	Sunburst Coreopsis
Gladioli	Weigelia

Certain Varieties of plants are considered, by peafowl, to be an absolute delicacy. These plants will actually attract peafowl, and should be avoided. Following is a list of a variety of these tasty vegetations:

Amaryllis
Begonia
Broccoli
Brussels Sprouts
Cabbage
California Poppy
Cauliflower
Chive
Holly Berries
Impatient
Kale
Kohlrabi

Lettuce
Nasturtium
Pansy
Petunia
Primrose
Spinach
Stock
Sweet Alyssum
Tomato
Water Stalk
Any Young Plant